5 good reasons to buy Real Estate in Switzerland:

Economical and Political stability of the country and most specifically Lake Geneva

Geneva is an international finance and trading hub, most international organizations have their headquarters in Geneva (UN, WTO, UNHCR...), while the IOC, UEFA and most of the international sport federations are based in the Canton of Vaud. Many companies as Nestlé, Logitech, BAT, Philip Morris, Adecco, Honeywell, Nissan, Caterpillar, SGS, Total, Procter & Gamble, Kempinski and many more have their headquarters in the region.

Security

While growing fast, Lake Geneva is still a safe "island". Criminality and delinquency in Switzerland fell to reach their lower level for 30 years in many areas in 2014 (Source: Confederation Suisse 2015). Switzerland is still a place where people can rely on each other.

Education

Education is also a strong asset of Switzerland to attract companies. Excellent universities, Polytechnic schools of Lausanne and Zurich, numerous international schools throughout the region, famous education names as IMD, EHL...

Quality of life

Switzerland ranks n°6 (out of 141 countries) in The Travel & Tourism Competitiveness Report 2015 of the World Economic Forum. Lake Geneva region offers over 100 museums, tens of well-know festivals and events such as Montreux Jazz Festival, Paleo Festival, Ballet Béjard... Part of the region (Lavaux) is listed World Heritage Site by UNESCO...

Tax

Tax is probably no longer the first reason why people come to Switzerland and one could probably add some more «good reasons to come» to the 4 previous ones before mentioning tax. It is nevertheless still very attractive for both individuals and companies compared to many countries.

Real Estate market on Lake Geneva

After 10 to 15 years of growth, the market has reached stability and one can expect lower growth rates in the future.

No speculation mainly due to the limitation of transactions with foreigners, Most transactions are made with local capacities or resident foreigners.

Stable and healthy market for residential. Limited access to financing (mortgage) keeps a fair level of prices.

Lowest interest rates ever, making investments very profitable.

Buying Real Estate in Switzerland

Only Swiss nationals or Residents can buy residential real estate in Switzerland,

“Resident” means having your primary (main) residency in Switzerland and paying taxes in Switzerland,

Taxes can be based on effective declared revenue or negotiated with the local tax authorities as a lumpsum. We call it a « forfait fiscal»,

This lumpsum is mainly based on the value of the house/apartment bought by the resident,

One exception: Touristic areas

Non-resident foreigners can buy residential real estate in some communes of some Cantons. They are limited to 1'000sqm of land and 200sqm of living space,

Only a few communes allow this kind of acquisition. It is for example the case of Montreux (Lake Geneva) and Crans-Montana (Alps),

Foreigners can buy non residential real estate with no restriction (hotels, offices, clinics, shopping centers...)

Where and how to buy residential estate

Lake Geneva and the French speaking part of Switzerland:

Made of 5 cantons: Geneva, Vaud, Valais, Neuchatel, Fribourg,

The Federal law applies, but each Canton has its own rules and application of the law, in terms of real estate,

Probably the most dynamic region of Switzerland with Zurich.

Geneva airport: most European capitals are less than 2 hours

Some of the best places where a resident will buy his main house (Geneva, Nyon, Lausanne, Montreux,...)

Some of the best places where a non resident can buy a holiday home (Monteux, Verbier, Crans-Montana, Zermatt...)

Legal procedure to buy Real Estate:

Any acquisition must be made through a notary,

Buyer and owner usually sign a forward sale where each party commits itself,

The forward sale can have conditions (such as getting a residency permit) or no condition,

It can be executed immediately if there is no condition (we call it a direct sale). There is no minimum legal delay in real estate transactions.

In the case where the sale has a condition, the buyer will generally leave a 10% deposit on the notary's account (escrow account),

The deposit will automatically be returned to the buyer if the condition is not fulfilled but it will be transferred to the buyer as soon as the condition is fulfilled,

Notary fees and taxes for the transfer of property are charged to the buyer. Rates are different depending on the canton, but will be around 5%,

No other fees should be charged to the buyer.
